This figure represents the number of Cadillacs manufactured and shipped during October, 1913. It represents the largest month's output of a single make of high grade cars in the history of the industry. It is greater than the combined shipments of all other Detroit made cars, selling at or above the Cadillac price. It comprised all types of Cadillacs, 1828 of the open body styles and 188 closed cars. It amounted in retail selling value to four million two hundred forty-six thousand four hundred twenty five dollars ($4,246,125.00). It is an unparalleled endorsement of the 1914 Cadillac. It indicates the degree to which the motor buying public recognizes the advanced principles of construction in the 1914 Cadillac; and that the motor buying public recognizes the Cadillac as the pre-eminent car. It indicates that the Cadillac, Standard of the World, is the car that dominates the high grade field. Phone for a demonstration.

PROTEST AGAINST STEPHEN NETTLES

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] At Hills, S. C., December 1.—By a vote of 123 to 86, the South Carolina Methodist Episcopal Conference decided to divide itself into a Southern and a Northern conference.

The conference also adopted a resolution asking Bishop Collins Denny, of Richmond, who is presiding, not to reappoint Rev. Stephen A. Nettles as editor of the Southern Christian Advocate, the State organ of the church, stating that it was the belief of those present that keeping the editor in his present position would be detrimental to the best interests of the paper and of the conference.

Editor Nettles' conduct in an affair with a tenant, Rev. Mr. Chick, of Spartanburg, who is a Methodist preacher, has been under investigation at this meeting of the conference. Nettles was fined in the Police Court for the attack on Chick.

At Hills to-day to-night a conference jury returned a verdict in the case of Rev. Stephen A. Nettles, finding him guilty of conduct unbecomingly a minister. He was ordered suspended from preaching for three months, and expelled from the General Conference.

WINCHESTER

Self-Loading Shotgun

12 GAUGE, TAKE-DOWN

Since its introduction, sportsmen have subjected this gun to almost every conceivable test. In no fair trial has it failed to stand up or prove its supremacy. Its Nickel Steel construction gives strength to shoot maximum loads with safety, and its reloading system the ability to handle the lightest or heaviest loads without tinkering the action. In this gun the "kick" is minimized to the last degree. It has other distinctive features to recommend it, as an inspection will show.
